

Stories of Slavery in the Colonial North

People Not Property

AN INTERACTIVE DOCUMENTARY

The Asanti Sankofa bird reminds us that we must look back in order to plan ahead.

RUN away from John Pell, of the Mannor of Pelham, a Negro Wench named Bell, a Boy named Janneau, a Girl named Tamer, another named Dinah, and another named Ifibel; also a Negro Man named Lewis. Whoever will take up said Negroes, and bring them to John Pell aforesaid, shall have Five Pounds Reward, and all reasonable Charges, paid by JOHN PELL.
